

InTransit Empowerment Project

building solidarity, creating art & eliminating prejudice

Mission

InTransit Empowerment Project aims to provide a safe and nurturing creative environment that encourages the exploration of identities affected by social power structures in order to build bridges across disparate communities. We aim to create non-violent and productive ways to reflect on our position within our society, cope with the oppressive structures and create solidarity within and between our diverse communities.

Youth Theater Program Info.

InTransit Youth Theater is a youth focused theater group for young activists. It is a positive, identity affirming environment where immigrant and refugee youth can receive support, artistic training, and where they can express themselves through the arts.

- Youth ages 14-24
- Immigrant and refugee youth*
- Auditions will be held in May of 2012
- 10 week program from June to July of 2012
- Main production will be in August of 2012
- The production will be a collaboration of the youth's experiences and stories
- Youth will receive a stipend for their work

*All youth are welcome to attend our programs but because of the lack of programs specifically targeting immigrant and refugee youth we strongly encourage immigrant and refugee youth to apply. Their stories deserve to be told.
